Destructive Fire at Courtland, Alabama.

Special to the Star.

DENVER, COL., Nov. 10.—A Tribune special gives an account of the burning of half a block of the most valuable business houses in Lake City. The fire started in a saloon, and the loss covers the entire business portion of the city. Three wholesale and several retail stores were destroyed. No water could be procured. As sacks of burning material were afterward found in the Court-house, which escaped, it is thought the fire originated from incendiaries. One young man fighting the flames was badly burned, and a purse of $100 was at once made up for him. Total loss $50,000.

HEAVY FIRE AT COURTLAND, ALA. DECATUR, ALA., Nov. 12.—The east portion of the business houses in Courtland, known as the Pippin & Shackelford Block, was consumed by fire yesterday morning. The loss is estimated at $25,000. J. Patterson, R. P. Shackelford, Pippin Bros. and W. B. McDonald were the principal losers. The insurance is about $4,000.

About a quarter of a mile away from the saw mill, James Rall's dwelling, valued at $1,500 and not insured, was set on fire and destroyed at the same time. The dwelling of Mrs. Keaton, valued at $500 and not insured, was burned in the same manner, and McCarthy's Hotel and the depot were saved with difficulty. All resulting, it is thought, from incendiary trains.

REVOLVING CYCLONE.

Made it Mightily Lively for a Norwegian Bark.

National Associated Press to the Star.

HALIFAX, Nov. 12.—The Norwegian bark Vesta, from New York by Queenstown, has arrived. The vessel left New York October 25th and on the 29th encountered a revolving cyclone, in which she was struck by two heavy seas, which carried away her rigging, foremast, mainmast and mizzenmast, with all the yards and gear attached, with the exception of mainmast. Her yards and jibboom are sprung, her foremast store, her bulwarks and boats destroyed, and her forecastle and galley are broken. The hatch water got into the vessel and damaged the cargo of grain. One seaman's leg was broken and another washed overboard, but a returning wave bore him to the deck again.

GRANT'S GREETING!

Chicago Welcomes Him With Music and Banners,

And Oceans of Slushy, Sloppy Mud.

The Windy Town Wild With Enthusiasm.

ARRIVAL OF THE DISTINGUISHED GUEST.

National Associated Press to the Star.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Chicago is filled with visitors to participate in the reception of General Grant. The General and party will reach here at 1 o'clock. He will alight from the train at the foot of Lake Park, be taken in charge by the Reception Committee, and the great procession of escort will move up Michigan avenue and through a circuit of South Side streets to the Palmer House, where the Citizens' Reception Committee of 500 will formally welcome him to the city. Mayor Harrison making the address. This evening a grand reception will take place at Haverly's Theater, where tickets of admission will be necessary. Addresses will be made to the Army of the Tennessee and to General Grant by Hon. E. B. Washburn, Governor Cullom and Mayor Harrison, and General Sherman will respond.

Judge Gresham, of Indiana, will deliver the annual address to the Army of the Tennessee to-morrow evening. The banquet of the Army of the Tennessee in honor of the General will be given at the Palmer. During the remainder of the week and until Tuesday next the General will be variously entertained by the citizens of Chicago. Among the distinguished persons in the city and who have engaged quarters at the leading hotels are Generals Sherman, Schofield, Auger, Crook, Potter, Pope, Robinson, E. S. Penfield and Williams, U. S. A.; Governors Cullom, of Illinois; Smith, of Wisconsin; Routt, of Colorado; Gear, of Iowa; Ex-Governor Fenton, of New York; Colonel Thomas Scott and the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad; R. G. Ingersoll, Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), Richard J. B. Hawley, Green B. Raum, Admiral Bowman, Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, Ex-Treasurer New, Thos. H. Noyes, Colonel Edmond, Thackeray, Baker, and Captain Valkman, U. S. A.; General J. R. Slack, Land Commissioner Williamson, Geo. W. Childs, Senator Cameron, and many others of equal celebrity.

The music is one of the greatest features of to-day's procession. Thirty bands have been engaged, and Losch's Orchestra will lead the line.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—10 A. M.—It rained all night and there is every prospect for more rain to-day. The streets are almost impassable for mud, and there are crowds of splashing pedestrians, whirling vehicles and galloping cavalrymen.

The decorations are greatly soiled by the storm, but fresh ones are being put up to-day, and a very fair display is made.

The procession will begin to form about noon, so as to meet General Grant on his arrival at 1 p. m.

Noon.—The weather is growing cooler, the clouds are partially gone away, and a pleasant afternoon is possible. The streets in the center of the city, especially along the line of march, are brilliant with red, white and blue in every conceivable shape, relieved here and there with evergreens, mottoes and portraits of the hero of the day.

The buildings are gorgeously decked from sidewalk to cornice. The Times building to-day looks up as gay as any. It is impossible to particularize further than was done in these dispatches this morning. All have caught the Grant enthusiasm, and there is scarcely a building on the line of march that is not decorated. Never did Chicago present such a festive appearance.

Millions of flags and banners are wafted by the gentle breeze, and throughout the entire city hundreds upon hundreds of business men and private citizens have spent a fortune arranging banners and flags, wreaths and emblems that tell in such unmistakable and pronounced a manner the high and universal esteem entertained by all classes for their great visitor. Dealers in flags and floral supplies report that the demand upon them for the past ten days has been enormous.

Tiers of temporary seats have been erected at every available place along the line of march. Single settings sold originally at 50 cents, but to-day the price has run up and they can not be had at a high premium.

Windows from which to view the procession have been selling at from two to twelve dollars. In one instance one hundred and fifty dollars was offered for two upper windows opposite to the Palmer House, which is a favored locality. Balconies were not to be bought at any price and even windows are out of the market.

A special train with the Reception Committee left this morning to meet Grant at Aurora or Mendota.

A special from Galena says the General boarded his train at 5 o'clock this morning with his family and Mrs. Montgomery, of Chicago, and General Rawley, of Galena. By invitation they occupy the private car of President Ackerman, of the Illinois Central.

ARRIVAL OF THE GENERAL.

A drizzling rain set in at 1 o'clock as the guns were fired announcing the arrival of Grant's train in the city and the procession was forming.

The General arrived promptly, and the procession moved off in spite of the rain. In half an hour the sun came out again, and with the exception of wet streets everything is passing off nicely.

The procession is about five miles in length. The Daily News publishes congratulatory dispatches to General Grant from Governors Garcelon, Head, Crosswell, Pillsbury, Hoyt, Kinkhead, Williams and others, including one from Bob Tombs, of Georgia.

MURDERED BY HIS FATHER-IN-LAW.

Special to the Star.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Nov. 12.—John M. Slater and his father-in-law, J. W. Keen, left Magazine, a village in Yell County, last evening, the former very drunk. While on the road a quarrel sprang up between them and Keen, drawing a pistol, shot his son-in-law dead. Keen afterwards surrendered to an officer, claiming it was a case of self defense.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 12.—At Blackburn, Mo., this morning, F. A. Blackburn, a highly esteemed citizen, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol. He has a sister in Covington, Ky.

DARING BUT UNSUCCESSFUL BURGLARS.

National Associated Press to the Star.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 12.—Four masked men entered the dwelling-house of Mr. J. H. Cross, Cashier of the First National Bank at Germantown, Monday night, robbed him and his family and then forced him to go to the bank with them. The lock was a time lock, which Mr. Cross could not open, so the robbers left in disgust, not knowing that $4,000 in coin was in boxes on top of the safe.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT TO A GIRL.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 12.—At Sterling Valley yesterday a girl aged 10, daughter of one of the proprietors of a grist mill of that place, was playing about the mill when her hair, which hung in long luxuriant tresses down her back, was caught in an upright shaft, revolving sixty times a minute. Her father heard a piercing scream and on looking around was horrified at beholding his girl lying on the floor, the entire scalp and one side of her face torn off. A surgeon replaced the scalp and dressed the wound but her recovery is doubtful.

BAD NIGHT FOR WRECKERS.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 12.—Five wrecks are reported on the Pennsylvania Road last night; one at the Meadows, between this place and Jersey City, one at Jersey City, one at the Cove Slaughter-house, one at Menlo Park, and one at Trenton. STILL WAITING FOR HATCH.

DENVER, COL., Nov. 12.—Advices from Los Pinos to-day state that General Adams and Chief Ouray are on the ground, but General Hatch has not yet arrived. There is not a White River Ute in sight, and the opinion is that Ouray's order for them to come in will not be obeyed. The Peace Commission begins the session to-day.

CONFERENCE WITH THE UTES.

LOS PINOS AGENCY, COL., Nov. 9, via Lake City, Col., Nov. 10.—General Adams, member of the Peace Commission, has just arrived. Colonel Hatch is expected to-morrow. The Commission will be ready to take testimony on the 12th inst. If the Utes had been consulted on their choice they would have selected Gen. Crook from the military. Shavinnaw, a Chief, says: "Crook no tell lie. We like him." This is the universal sentiment among the Utes. The result of the Commission is it is idle to conjecture. A month will not see the end of the labors. The majority of the Utes are camped about seventy miles from here. They are afraid to accept the invitation of Secretary Schurz and the assurance of Chief Ouray to come.

OLD KING COAL.

He Will Not Ride Down on the Present Rise.

More Rain Needed Up the River.

Successful Strikes Among the Miners.

Special to the Star.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 12.—12:45 P. M.—The river here is thirty-two inches and rising slowly, with all prospects favorable for a few inches more. There is no immediate prospect for a coal stage of water. The present will, it is generally believed, run out further down, and not even the flats will attempt to go out with coal short of forty inches, and a better prospect above. The weather is variable, and can not be relied upon as affecting the river in any way.

MOUNT STERLING, KY., Nov. 12.—Freight on the Coal Road for a car of coal has been advanced to $9, and for coal shipped over the Big Sandy, $15 taken off the draw back. On Saturday the price of coal was 22 cents at the pockets and 23 cents delivered. There were some men in town Saturday selling coal hauled in wagons at 20 cents per bushel. With the present prices asked for coal here and at the banks we shall expect to see the old brigade of wagons on the road hauling coal.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NELOXVILLE, O., Nov. 12.—W. B. Brooks allowed his men the $1 per ton yesterday, and they went to work.

MARISSILL, O., Nov. 12.—Five different coal companies in this valley have acceded to the demands of the miners on deficiency work and went to work this morning.

COSHOCTON, O., Nov. 12.—The miners at Coalport Mines, near here, have won the day and received an advance of ten cents per ton, making seventy-five cents per ton for mining. The shovellers and wheelers have also received an advance and gone to work.

BRAZIL, Nov. 12.—The Jackson Coal and Mining Company's men struck to-day. They wanted their pay-day changed from the third to the second Saturday in each month.

NICHOLSVILLE, KY., Nov. 12.—Our people are becoming much concerned in regard to the scarcity of coal. There are now only some four hundred bushels in the city, and that is selling in small lots at fifty cents per bushel. No coal can be obtained from the Pine Hill mines.

Cincinnati.

There were only nine of the coal dealers present at the meeting this morning, and all that was done was to adjourn, subject to the call of the Chairman. The Committee appointed to draw up a plan for a pool was not ready to report, but from what could be learned it is evident that the coal men are not anxious or even willing to enter into the pool combination as long as there are indications of rain and a rise of the river.

If the weather turns dry and cold the greater portion of the coal dealers promise to join the pool, but there are some who seem determined to run their business on their own responsibility. During this warm weather there is a small demand for coal, but it is still held at 22 cents.

The Hocking Valley has raised its rates on coal from $1.50 to $2 and the Little Miami from $1.75 to $3.50, which virtually shuts off the Cincinnati market.

The roads claim that the demand for coal from Cincinnati has caused the miners to strike for larger wages, which had greatly injured the trade of these roads at other points, and as a protection for their own interests, they were obliged to stop the demand from Cincinnati by raising the tariff. The O. & M. Road has also raised the tariff to $2, but the L. C. & L. have made no change.

Interesting to Members of Land Associations.

Julius Tressel against the executors of N. Longworth. Judge Smith decided this case to-day. The executors of Longworth leased to the Undercliff Land and Loan Association No. 2 a strip of ground between the Wooster Turnpike and the L. M. Railroad, the land being subdivided into 103 lots. The annual rent was $4,100 a year.

Owing to the hard times the Association was unable to pay the rent or taxes, and the executor brought suit and recovered a judgment for the amount due, and an order for the sale of the lease was issued, and there being no other bidders at the sale the executors purchased back the lease.

The plaintiff was a member of the association, and he now brings suit for an injunction to restrain the executors from putting out of possession of a lot which he purchased from the Association and improved at an expense of $1,100. He also claims to have his lot and building set off to him on his paying his proportion of the debt.

The Court held that by repurchasing the lease the executors stood in the same position as the Association itself toward the plaintiff, and as the latter had paid for his lot the defendants could not put him out of possession.

On the second claim of the plaintiff, however, it was held that he would not be entitled to a deed until the executors were paid all the arrearages due for rent and taxes.
